

CASE STUDY

MCHQ

LOCATION

Lyndhurst, NJ

Committed to creating the “Chamber of the Future”, the Meadowlands Chamber of Commerce created a destination for members to be proud of when they relocated their offices to their new MCHQ.

The first Meadowlands Visitors Center, the MCHQ is a dynamic Business Hub available to all members as part of their membership. Designed to foster innovation and collaboration, members can use the Business Hub as a space to meet with other members, their clients, or to work for the day.

“The MC’s leadership is following our strategic business plan to deliver more value to our members. We believe this new space will greatly enhance our ability to offer creative new ways for you and your key staff to learn, network and build business opportunities-while utilizing resources that might not be available to you otherwise.”

Jim Kirkos | President & CEO | Meadowlands Chamber

The dynamic Business Hub offers huddle rooms, ideation and collaboration zones, meeting spaces to enhance networking, and state-of-the-art technology solutions.

One goal of the project was to include technology that some members wouldn’t have access to elsewhere; using premanufactured construction solutions allowed for greater flexibility and ease in incorporating technology solutions. Pre-manufactured construction solutions also decreased the time required to build the space, enabling the project to be built faster than a traditional construction method.
